

Hello
user1

Hello!
user2

I am sure Republicans Are more hypocritical than democrats
user1

I am a democrat, but I do often think that democrats are more hypocritical than republicans.
user2

What is your reasoning?
user2

My reasoning is that they always think they are above others
user1

and the others are sheeps
user1

They do not respect the other side
user1

and actively tries to undermine democracy
user1

I can see that, I would say though that I think, in terms of the definition and my understanding of the term hypercritical, I think democrats are more hypercritical of both republicans and even their own party
user2

I think republicans often have a blanket rejection of everything that is like "us vs. them"
user2

Its literal definition is: behaving in a way that suggests one has higher standards or more noble beliefs than is the case.
user1

Do you understand where I am coming from?
user2

Well that is not what it says when I look it up
user2

Yes, of course I agree with that idea
user1

hy·per·crit·i·cal /
ˈhɪpərˈkrɪtɪkəl/
Learn to pronounce adjective excessively and unreasonably critical, especially of small faults
user2

My definition says that but it does not matter
user1

What doesn't matter?
user2

But I understand your reasoning
user1

Oh okay, I got you
user2

The definition of hypocritical
user1

Yeah sorry the chat is kinda slow for me
user2

Yea its okay
user1

But yea to reiterate
user1

I think then we agree to disagree maybe? Can you think of any other examples?
user2

We think republicans have a mentality of Us. Vs. Them
user1

and both party has a hypocritical view of each other
user1

Do you agree?
user1

Democrats tend to get caught up and criticise the small and idiosyncrasies of different points in arguments (which is why I would say they are more hypercritical) but republicans tend to have more of a broad-sweeping rejection of ideas (an us vs them mentality)
user2

not getting caught up on the small details
user2

That does not make them any better tho
user1

(sorry for my spelling I was trying to type fastP
user2

Yes I agree
user2

I didn't say that
user2

And getting caught up in small details is much better than just broad denial of rights
user1

I didn't imply or put any morality in my point
user2

I agree with that personally
user2

I understand
